Educational Notes

The Buffalo, N. Y., Chamber of Commerce is leading a movement to organize vocational training and vocational guidance in direct connection with the industrial, educational and social needs of the city. Under the leadership of the chamber of commerce a committee composed of business men, school men and social workers is making a preliminary survey of the city preparatory to mapping out a definite program. The work is under the immediate supervision of E. W. Weaver, vocational director of the Brooklyn Boys' High School.

Tennessee spent nearly twice as much money last year for high school purposes as the year before, and the actual number of high school buildings increased one-third. Other significant increases reported by the state high school inspector are: Enrollment, forty-six per cent increase during the year; daily attendance, forty-seven per cent increase; length of average term, ten days more than the year before; and teachers, sixty-five per cent more. In the meantime the average cost of high school tuition has been reduced from $4 to $3.96 per month.

The Phelps-Stokes lectures on the negro problem given at the University of Virginia this year included the following subjects: Race relations in the South; black-belt negro labor in slavery and freedom—its efficiency and its cost; the economic negro; the public-health relation of the race problem in the South. The aim of these lectures is to arouse a scientific interest in the better adjustment of the negro to American civilization.

Horold W. Foght, of the United States Bureau of Education, is now in Denmark studying rural schools with a view to adapting as much as possible of Danish experience to the American country school system. He is accompanied on the trip by William H. Smith, rural school supervisor of Mississippi, and L. L. Friend, supervisor of high schools of West Virginia.

Ohio University announces a "quartet of new forces" in the State Normal College. The rural school and the department of agriculture are two of these forces upon which special emphasis is laid, since they represent a definite feature in remedying the urgent problem of rural school facilities.

Night schools of scientific agriculture are proving a popular feature with the farmers of western Michigan.

SHINNSTON

SHINNSTON, Feb. 24.—On account of the fire recently the seventh grade of the Shinnston public school has not had any classes this week. The eighth grade also was unable to have classes for three days, but as the damage to the school rooms was most caused by water, repairs were soon made. It is hoped that by the middle of this week the seventh grade will again be at work.

Mrs. Mary Short, of Charles street, who has been quite ill for the last two weeks, is some better and will soon be out again.

Mrs. George Ferguson entertained the Ladies' Aid Society of the Methodist Episcopal church Thursday afternoon from 2 to 6 o'clock. The time was spent in sewing and a social hour, after which a salad luncheon was served by the hostess.

Mrs. Lloyd Chalfant, of Clarksburg, visited friends here Thursday.

Miss Bonnie Swiger, teacher of the third grade in the public school here, has been quite ill of tonsillitis the last week. Miss Minnie Martin is teaching in her absence.

R. H. Johnson, photographer, of Fairmont, was here Thursday. Mr. Johnson was taking group pictures of the High School for the Year Book.

The Franklin and Shakespeare societies of the Shinnston High School met in their respective rooms Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Committees were elected from both societies to select contestants for the literary contest, which will be given commencing next week.

Mrs. Harwood, of Main street, has been ill for the last week, but is now able to be out again.

Mrs. Arthur Stumm and Mrs. Elizabeth Hardesty, of Enterprise, were guests of Mrs. Ernest L. Pigot Wednesday.

James Finlayson was a recent Fairmont visitor.

On Wednesday night Reed's store in East Shinnston was robbed. Forty-three pairs of shoes valued at $300, were taken. Many shirts and various other things were also taken. The whole loss amounts to about $400. The mysterious part of it was that the robbers entered the front door, while the lights were burning brightly. They tried the night lock-off and damaged the windows to some extent. Bloodhounds from Fairmont were brought here on the 9 o'clock car. They followed a trail from the store to a house occupied by Italians at Haywood. Two men and a girl are under arrest.

Mrs. John Smith, of Coleman avenue, Fairmont, is a guest of Mrs. Lydia Parrill of the West Side.

Master Cecil Knapp, of Fairmont, is quite ill of measles at the home of his grandmother, Mrs. Etta Dean.

Dr. A. T. Post, of Clarksburg, was a recent visitor here.

Charles Smith, of Clarksburg, was here recently visiting his mother, Mrs. M. J. Smith.

Mrs. Alma Vassar was a visitor at Fairmont recently.

E. H. Shinn was a business visitor at Fairmont Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. Willa Lowe visited Clarksburg friends a few days ago.

Mrs. L. M. Wetzel, of Fairmont, is a guest of Mrs. J. N. Knox.

Mrs. J. D. McGee was shopping at Clarksburg recently.

Mrs. Geraldine Rinehart was a recent visitor to Fairmont friends.

Miss Byrd Whitman has returned from Fairmont, where she visited friends for several days.

Mrs. W. C. Murray was shopping at Clarksburg recently.

George Smith was a Fairmont visitor the first of the week.

Abe Horton, a former well known local boy, but now of Clarksburg, where he is a street car conductor, visited friends here recently.

O. L. Lowe was looking after business matter at Clarksburg the first of the week.

T. M. Heldreth was a business calier here this week. The rig for the Robert Monroe well in the Monroe addition is completed, and things are now in shape to begin drilling.

MRS. HATFIELD

Shows Herself to Be Quite a Politician in the Capital City of the State.

HUNTINGTON, Feb. 24.—That she had been successful in securing an appropriation of $6,100 for use in remodeling the governor's mansion at Charleston, was the statement of Mrs. H. D. Hatfield, wife of the governor-elect, here. Mrs. Hatfield, in the capital city, recently, made a personal appeal to the finance committee, declaring that the home set apart for the governor needed improvement in the way of rearrangement and refurnishing. Her plea was successful, and as soon as plans can be completed the work of remodeling will begin.

It is the intention of Mrs. Hatfield to arrange the governor's mansion so that it will be more suited for reception of both municipal and state functions, which are a part of the gubernatorial requirements. Several partitions will be removed in order to provide a large central reception hall. Other changes will be made and an enlargement of the structure is being considered.

FINED

Is B. R. Roarbaugh for Making Insulting Remarks to a Lady.

B. R. Roarbaugh was fined $10 and costs by Mayor Frank R. Moore at the session of police court Monday morning for disorderly conduct on the streets Saturday night. Officer James Henderson, of the police force, patrolled the streets in civilian clothes Saturday night and caught Roarbaugh making insulting remarks to a lady.

Complaints have been made to the chief that on Saturday nights a class of men are on the streets that take delight in insulting ladies, but are always careful to make sure that the officer is near when they do it. Officer Henderson was detailed to patrol these men in civilian clothes and he caught Roarbaugh. He gave several others hot chances but they escaped him through the large crowds on the streets.

The chief determined to break this up and will have different members of the police force on the streets Saturday nights in civilian clothes and all offenders caught will be punished severely.

O. G. Smith was fined $10 and costs for resisting arrest. Officer Morris arrested him for being drunk and he resisted, but the officer soon overpowered him and took him to jail.

Nine men arrested for street drunkenness were fined $3 and costs each and all paid up. At the Monday morning session two drunks paid fines and were released.

Falling Hair

Many People Have a Simple Way of Stopping It.

It was Mr. Sangerbord, of Paris, who first discovered that dandruff and falling hair were caused by a microbe.

And now that Parisian Sage, the remedy that kills the dandruff germ, is sold in every town in America, the clean people of this country have awakened to the fact that dandruff is unnecessary; that falling hair and itching scalp can be quickly stopped, and that people who use Parisian Sage will never grow bald.

To every reader of the Telegram who wishes to eradicate disgusting dandruff, stop falling hair, and have an immaculately clean scalp, free from itching, we make this offer:

Parisian Sage is sold by druggists everywhere, for 50 cents a large bottle. It is an ideal, daintily perfumed hair dressing, free from grease and stickiness, and will cause hair to grow lustrous and luxuriant. Sold and guaranteed by Wells-Haymaker Co.—Advertisement.
